IF THE SHOE FITS

Giuseppe Zanotti definitely knows more than a thing or two about creating shoes that women love to covet, Prestige invites a group of ladies to indulge in his latest

The Occasion: Preview of the Giuseppe Zanotti Cruise collection in association with Prestige

The Venue: The chic Giuseppe Zanotti Boutique at Palais Renaissance

The Spoils: Like a flower to a bee, stylish ladies found it difficult to resist an exclusive invitation to preview shoes from Italian designer Giuseppe Zanotti. Beautifully crafted, footwear from the new Cruise collection lined the shelves and caught the attention of guests so much so that everyone was trying on at least a few pairs. A stunning pair of red patent heels with a cork base was the favourite of many and coincidentally was the pair that the trendsetting Shabnam Melwani-Reis, Director of Jay Gee Enterprises was also wearing. The highlight of the afternoon was a show that saw dashing models presenting the various pieces on silver trays. The last model came out bearing a surprise – he was looking for a Cinderella! Bearing a pair of shoes on his tray, the lady that would be able to fit them would get to keep it. This brought squeals of excitement and after a few
