UOB flexes its finesse during its new credit card launch held with Prestige

The Occasion: UOB launches its Lady's Solitaire MasterCard

The Venue: A private residence at Yarwood Avenue

The Spoils: This is the first World MasterCard for women. Accompanied by a legion of benefits, the Lady's Solitaire Card offers privileged access to local and international services and events. During the launch, guests were also treated to a special SSO8 presentation by Valentino. Daum's Black & Chrome Collection was placed discerningly throughout the venue. These black crystal sculptures by artists such as Hilton McConnico and Sylvie Manguad Lasseigne certainly upped the chic quotient on this tasteful evening.

Wine & Dine: Guests were in for a gastronomic affair with little treats such as nori-wrapped grilled beef with enoki mushrooms and crab meat avruga in melon cup or heartier takes such as ballontine of chicken with sauteed mushroom and rosemary jus, and salmon wellington with shaved fennel salad and champagne sauce. Desserts like mini sticky date toffee puddings and white chocolate panna cotta with raspberry coulis satisfied the sweet-toothed. Last but not least, Henriot Brut champagnes provided just the right sassy touch.
